

Rules and Regulations

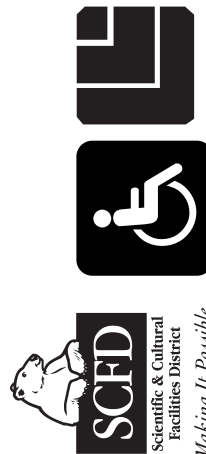

- All work must be original in concept.
- No sharp or jagged edges for any work.
- All wall-hung art must be properly framed and wired to hang. No saw tooth hangers accepted.
- No piece may weigh over 70 lbs. unless the artist installs it. Permission for this type of work must be granted by the show chairperson in advance.
- The LAA exercises professional care in handling all entries and does not assume liability for loss or damage of entries while in transit or in the LAA's possession.
- All entries, except Art Challenge entries under glass, will be touched by the public.
- Tactile Show is open to all artists 16 and older. Entries must be executed in a medium that can be touched and experienced in a visual and non-visual sense, such as textiles, paper, ceramic, jewelry, sculpture, collage, painting, or any other wall-hung or self standing art that is tactile (touchable).
- The Art Challenge Show is open to artists with disabilities age 16 and older. Entries may include tactile media or non-tactile media, which needs to be under glass. Applications for the Art Challenge Show must be accompanied by a brief artist's statement explaining how your disability influences your art work.

The Tactile Show and The Art Challenged Show

This is the 18th year The Louisville Art Association has hosted the Tactile Show and the Art Challenged Show. The purpose of the Art Challenged Show is to give a venue to artists with disabilities and to promote art work in that community. The Tactile Show is to offer a venue where people with visual and sensory disabilities can directly interact with art pieces.

Entry and Sale Fees

The entry fee for the Tactile show is $20 for three pieces. No additional pieces can be submitted. The entry fee for the Challenge Show is $15 for three pieces. No additional pieces can be submitted. Artists are welcome to submit bin work at no additional fee. Bin work must be display ready. All sales will be conducted by LAA. A 25% commission will be collected at the time of sale.
